

Warning against counterfeit products

In recent years, we have confirmed that counterfeit products of parts used in our products have been distributing in several areas of the world. Many of these counterfeit products even include parts that have not been approved by classification societies. Counterfeit products not only have different specifications and performance compared to the official products, but also are inferior in terms of quality and safety. They also have a higher risk of failure earlier than their original useful life and possible expensive losses due to damage.

Please be careful not to purchase counterfeit products. When purchasing parts for our products, please order through our maintenance section or authorized agents. We manage a shipping history of parts for each vessel. We are not responsible for any defects or accidents that may occur due to the use of counterfeit products.
